

Weary Crews Prevail FIGHT CINDY'S BACKWASH

Port Arthur, Tex. (UPI)—exhausted sand-bag crews Thursday night were apparently winning their fight to save 1,500 homes threatened by floods from the backwash of now-dead Hurricane Cindy.

But even as they battled the floods left over from the hurricane, another weather disturbance moved into the Gulf of Mexico and raised the possibility of another storm.

The U.S. Weather Bureau reported an easterly wave moving across the southern tip of Florida into the Caribbean and eastern Gulf of Mexico.

Pressure in the area is below normal, the Weather Bureau said, and there is considerable shower activity in the northwest Caribbean and east gulf areas.

Most hurricanes spring from such an easterly wave.

Civil defense officials at Port Arthur said it appeared the battle against the flood would be won, although caution was necessary at least through Friday.

The water rose only two inches on the sand-bagged southwest Port Arthur levee during the afternoon, indicating that the floodwater was flowing on into the gulf nearly as fast as it accumulated.

A crew of 200 emergency workers was stationed at the levee during the night.

Water was rising slowly at Mauriceville, 20 miles northeast. Fifty homes and businesses there were up to two feet deep in water, and some estimates said it might take two weeks to recede.

Damage from the floods following Cindy in two southeast Texas counties was put at more than $10 million.

The southwest Port Arthur levee held back the combined waters of Holdebrandt Bayou and Rodair Gully from the Port Acres suburb. Some floodwater earlier swept through about 700 homes in Port Acres.

Pressure For Red Trade Growing

. . . BUT DO COMMIES WANT IT?

Washington (AP)—Administration farm officials expressed surprise Thursday at pressure building up in Congress and elsewhere for more liberal U.S. trade policies—particularly in grain and other foods—with Communist Bloc countries.

An aide of Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman reacted with these words: "How are you going to sell them anything when they have not indicated they want it?"

Talk of possible U.S. sales of surplus wheat and other non-strategic materials has ballooned in Congress and in commodity markets since Canada agreed earlier this week to sell the Soviets $500 million worth of wheat and Australia sold them $90 million worth.

Supplement
The Soviets made these purchases to supplement short supplies needed for their own people and for other areas which they help supply.

Aide
A State Department spokesman said the U.S. government has received no Soviet offer to buy wheat, and does not expect to receive any.

The Freeman assistant, Rodney Leonard, said the Soviet Union has not made a direct or indirect approach to the U.S. government regarding possible grain or other deals.

Others who have taken a similar position include Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., Milton R. Young, R-N.D., George D. Aiken, R-Vt., and Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y.

Leonard said that should the Soviets indicate they would like to buy U.S. grain and other farm products, the matter undoubtedly would be taken up at a White House level. Freeman was scheduled to return to Washington, but the assistant said he did not expect the secretary to discuss the matter with President Kennedy before next Tuesday, if then. The two will travel to Milford, Pa., Tuesday to take part in dedication of the Gifford Pinchot Institute for Conservation Studies.

Meanwhile some grain traders reported that they have been approached by Soviet representatives about buying wheat. Grain officials in the Agriculture Department said they have received no reports of such offers.

Urge Study

On Capitol Hill, Sen. Frank Carlson, a Republican from wheat-surplus Kansas, joined a number of other lawmakers in calling on the administration to study what he called proposals to do more business with the Reds in such materials as foods.

Others who have taken a similar position include Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., Milton R. Young, R-N.D., George D. Aiken, R-Vt., and Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y.

There appears to be no strong opposition within the administration to possible relaxation of trade relations with the Reds on foods and some other non-strategic materials. The United States has refused for years to sell the Communists anything they could use to build up their war potential.

Margin

Ratification is considered a foregone conclusion. But President Kennedy has urged approval by a margin large enough to show the world that the American people want a just peace."

Hruska said his decision was influenced by Kennedy's Sept. 10 letter to the Senate giving "unqualified and unequivocal assurances" that there would be no relaxation of U.S. security when the treaty goes into effect.

"My decision has also been against this treaty is to commit political suicide.

"I will vote against this treaty because in my heart, mind, soul and conscience, I feel it detrimental to the strength of my country."

If it means political suicide to vote for my country against this treaty, then I commit it gladly. It is not my future that concerns me. It is my country—and what my conscience tells me is how best I may serve it."

served the right to vote against it on the floor if he became convinced it is not in the U.S. interest.

The treaty's ban on all nuclear tests except those underground, Lausche said Thursday, could "create a condition that will bring Russia to a position of supremacy in power." He told the Senate "we cannot take the word of Red Russia" and added:

"Our military posture will unquestionably be affected by the test ban. But it will not be compromised."

Misgivings

Lausche had expressed misgivings about the treaty when he joined in voting it out of the foreign relations committee. He said then that he received a long attack

Deportation Ordered

Macao (AP)—Portuguese authorities clamped down Thursday on anti-communist activities in this tiny colony bordering Communist China. The government said any person involved in anti-communist activities would be deported to Red China. The announcement followed reports of increasing raids by Formosa government agents in China's coastal areas. Red China has claimed many Chinese Nationalist agents use Macao as their base.

Hruska To Back Test Treaty; Lausche Dropping His Support

Washington (AP)—Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., announced to the Senate Thursday he has decided with difficulty "against a background of some doubt and brutal realism" to vote for the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

His departure from the slowly dwindling list of undecided senators offset the switch earlier in the day, to the ranks of treaty foes by Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, who had been counted as a supporter.

"Our military posture will unquestionably be affected by the test ban. But it will not be compromised."

Goldy Against Ban Even If It Kills Him

Washington (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said Thursday he will vote against the limited nuclear test ban treaty even if "it means political suicide to vote for my country."

Goldwater, a potential contender for the Republican presidential nomination, said in a senate address:

"I have been told, as have others, I am sure, that to vote against this treaty is to commit political suicide.

"I will vote against this treaty because in my heart, mind, soul and conscience, I feel it detrimental to the strength of my country."

If it means political suicide to vote for my country against this treaty, then I commit it gladly. It is not my future that concerns me. It is my country—and what my conscience tells me is how best I may serve it."

Stewardship Of Land Praised

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Fairbury—"Lots of times we thought we'd be old men by dedication time."

Youthful Norris Schoen and his three fellow-directors had decades to spare, however, as their Buckley Creek Watershed made a splash Thursday echoing statewide. Only Walter Kriesel has seen 40, Richard Schoenrock and Alfred Schoen helping to a reputation as perhaps the state's youngest conservancy board.

26,700 Acre District

Festivities for the 26,700-acre district, first completed dam drew even Gov. Frank Morrison, as well as State Soil Conservationist C. Dale Jaedicke. They especially noted that the Jefferson County district—only two farmsteads stretch into Thayer County—was the second organized in Nebraska some five years ago.

Lauding conservation as "One of our most important public businesses," the governor predicted that improving agricultural techniques will ever demand more water for maximum productivity." He explained that this combination, along with new crops and expanding uses for existing ones, will help combat a situation "in which 75% of the world community is underfed."

"The state has a right to expect that farmers exercise stewardship of their land," he continued. "They have an obligation to society, the state and the nation."

Acutal dedication on the Max Swoisky farm about eight miles southwest of Fairbury followed a luncheon hosted by the local Chamber of Commerce. One of six structures scheduled for the district, the impoundment drains 1,165 acres and is approaching its normal pool size of 27 acres.

Also toured was a same-size dam just completed, constructed primarily on land of John Arntt. Seven property owners were involved in the two structures, the district so far operating on a free-ease-ment basis.

The new $15,000 ornamental lighting system at Lincoln Industrial Park, U.S. 77 and Neb. 2, was put into operation Thursday as Mayor Dean Petersen threw the switch.

Park officials say the lighting is one of the finest systems available, complete with underground power lines and electric eye control. The electric eye system turns the lights on at dusk, turns them off at dawn.

Landscaping of the park is "well under way" and the sowing of permanent grass is completed. A rail spur track to serve the park is nearing completion.

Park buildings are progressing, too. The Victor Business Forms Company hopes to move in and start operations within a month, officials said.

Prime Case Of Deceit

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Some time at some place there will be honor strong enough to break the back of segregation, the words will be found to motivate mankind as the Creator intended and a humble spirit of true compassion will shroud the hearts and minds of men and women. It simply will have to be this way some day because human injustice of a single kind and nature cannot forever endure in a world fashioned by One whose very life was gladly surrendered in the cause of human dignity, in the cause of understanding, in the cause of love and in the cause of eternal equality.

But it is not our privilege to be recorded in the history of our current time, at least, as the generation which achieved this new plateau of social culture. It is rather, to what should be our undying mortification, our apparent determination to propagate a heritage characterized by the expropriation of life itself.

One wonders what depths men must sink before the reality of their plight comes home to them. One wonders how long men can walk in the midst of false pride, deceit and dishonesty before the evil of the thing becomes such a sore as to infect and eventually decimate their ranks.

One wonders what has happened to the minds of men when such a thing as a bill of rights can be twisted into a document for majority control of the minority. One wonders what has happened to the minds of men when the so-called rights of one are the chains of slavery for another. And one wonders where are the stout-hearted to stand up and be counted against such distortion and injustice.

Where are the realtors, for instance, who condemn the grubby action of the directors of the Nebraska Real Estate Association who adopted the infamous "property owners' bill of rights?" Where are those who refuse to subscribe to the proliferation, under the guise of democratic principles, of the seeds of prejudice and hatred?

Yes, where are they? Some are there, it is hoped, but hidden in the shadows of fear or perhaps too warped by the times to any longer stand erect. Well, it should be fully understood what it is with which they professionally associate themselves. Their property owners' bill of rights is a sham, an insult to their community and to the people with whom they expect to do business. What is the final and most important right of all they seek to guarantee for you, the property owner? You, the fathers and mothers of young children who will be called

Putrid Odor In The Air

"bill of rights" have passed the directors of the Nebraska Real Estate Association if it did not reflect the sentiments of the home owners? The "bill of rights" is a disgusting helping of syrup poured over a stew that has been reeking for so long that it has contaminated the entire atmosphere. Is it the sort of thing that we want to be accused of serving up to future generations?

It is not that we are forced in some way or other to mouth human rights but to hand out human insults; it is that we haven't made the effort to squelch this practice. How magnificently we could escape the stigma of prejudice if we would only inquire and then refuse to do any business, either buying or selling, with a realtor who subscribes to the "property owners' bill of rights," also known as "the home-owners' guide to segregation."

For The Fourth Time

We refuse to believe that Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fischer of Aberdeen, South Dakota, had community prestige in mind, but it is a fact that in becoming the parents of quintuplets they guaranteed their town top public interest for quite a number of years.

The Chamber of Commerce of Aberdeen is deeply in their debt and should include a substantial subsidy for the Fischer family in every annual budget. The best minds of Madison Avenue, albeit, for good fees, have kept Americans in a high state of vigor rubbing themselves with cosmetics and swallowing pills for their tired blood and glass, mechanical stomachs, have nothing to compare with the Aberdeen event.

We can understand the swelling pride of the nation and especially the national administration. Quintuplets are something the commies forgot to invent. The western hemisphere is way out in front. In one genera-

New Models Roll Out

Beginning today and continuing through next week, the U.S. auto industry will parade the new 1964 models and in the manufacturers' expectations of sales we find a substantial example of prosperity. The banner year in car sales was 1955 when sales of U.S.-built cars hit 7,409,000. In the year now ending, sales will total just over the 7 million mark and a high of 6.5 to 7 million is estimated for 1964.

Added to these figures would be modest sales of imported foreign makes. Despite the frequency with which such models are seen, they still constitute a very small part of the total sales picture, expecting to hit 375,000 in 1964. This is such a small part, in fact, that it has pretty well quieted Detroit fears of a few years ago of any foreign takeover.

Pair Charged In Blair Farm Breakin' Also Checked For Dodge Co. Thefts

Blair (P) — Two men have been charged in connection with a Washington County breakin' and are under investigation for a series of breakins in other counties.

Washington County Attorney Roy Anderson said he has filed charges of grand larceny against Stanley Putnam, 28, and Floyd Craig, both of Kennard in connection with the theft of a variety of household appliances from an unoccupied farm house southwest of Blair belonging to the Albert Klotz estate.

He said a bedroom set, a stove, and other household appliances were involved.

In Fremont Dodge County Attorney R. L. Kuhlman said the Dodge sheriff has placed a hold order on the two men, and he plans to file charges against them, but he has more investigating to do before determining the charges.

The Farmers Union Cooperatives at Scribner and Nickerson where several things were stolen are in Dodge City.

Washington County Sheriff Homer Brainard said the two men were found selling articles believed stolen from these and other communities. Three cars and two pickup trucks full of tires, batteries and other merchandise were found, he said.

Putnam, an ex-convict is free on $2,500 bond in Lincoln County on a 1961 charge of breaking and entering.

The sheriff said the two men were approaching people in Blair offering to sell tires for $10 and batteries for $5.

Van Ness Given Prison Sentence

Omaha (P) — District Judge John Burke sentenced 19-year-old Larry Van Ness to four years on each of two charges of motor vehicle homicide Thursday.

Van Ness was charged in the Feb. 13 traffic deaths of Air Force Warrant Officer George Willingham and his daughter, Sharon.

Van Ness pleaded guilty last week as a jury was being picked to try his case.

Loss Near $10,000 In Blaze Damaging G.I. Well Company

Grand Island (P) — Grand Island had its second disastrous fire within a month early Thursday when a blaze of undetermined origin destroyed the interior of the Kelly Well Company.

Aug. 20 the former Fairmont Creamery building was destroyed.

The well company which manufactures well casings, is located in a 10-year-old steel building but the wooden interior walls and insulation were burned out and considerable machinery was destroyed or damaged.

A spokesman for the firm said the loss, which is insured, would be less than $10,000. Earlier company officials had feared the loss would exceed this figure.

The blaze started in a room of the building used for storage.

The blaze was extinguished in about an hour, with no involvement of other buildings.

DID YOU KNOW?

Grasshoppers were among the worst enemies of the early settlers of Nebraska! These Rocky Mountain grasshoppers had enormous appetites. One day in 1874 billions of them filled the air and ate everything . . . corn, fruit trees, green crops, people's clothing! They even liked us so well they concluded to leave their children with us! Many pioneers grew discouraged and moved back east. One could read this sign painted on the canvas of their wagons: "Eaten out by grasshoppers. Going east to live with wife's folks." Modern chemicals have made life easier for Nebraskans while modern fashions have made life more gracious! For the most modern in women's shoes . . . Gold's Fashion Shoes on Second Floor.

Long Task Of Revising State Teacher Standards Begun

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

The long and important task of reorganizing, simplifying and liberalizing Nebraska's teacher certification standards was begun Thursday with a day's discussion of proposed revisions by the Nebraska Teacher Certification Advisory Committee.

Dr. R. L. Fredstrom, assistant superintendent of Lincoln Public Schools and committee chairman, expressed enthusiasm at the close of Thursday's meeting for the "genuine concern" shown by committee members for the job heretofore set by statute.

To Recommend Rules

The committee is to recommend rules and regulations to the board, which will hold a public hearing on the proposals and then adopt new standards effective Jan. 1, 1964.

Among the many items under consideration Thursday was the proposal that the state issue two basic types of certificates—one would be an administrative and supervisory certificate, which would be valid for administration, supervision and teaching, and the other would be a teacher's certificate, valid for teaching only.

They were qualified while taking special education courses to earn higher certificates.

'Trying To Keep Faith'

Sens. Elvin Adamson of Nenzel and Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth, two of the four legislative members on the committee, said at the meeting's conclusion it appeared the group was "trying to keep faith" with the intent of the 1963 legislative act.

The committee is scheduled to hold its next meeting at 9 a.m. Oct. 10 at the Nebraska Center when the proposals will be discussed with the Nebraska Council on Teacher Education.

Dr. Fredstrom said he expects the committee at that time will be ready to "approve, modify or reject" the various changes proposed.

Power Ante Upped To $350 Million

They upped the ante Thursday on the anticipated cost of electric facilities needed by 1972 to $350 million.

A day earlier, power leaders had set the price tag for generation facilities at nearly $200 million.

Thursday, Clair Callan of Odell, Nebraska Power Review Board Chairman, and Vern Livingston, Nebraska City Utilities Superintendent, told the League of Nebraska Municipalities that an additional $150 million will be needed to construct transmission lines.

"The people of Nebraska may need to finance some $350 million to assure power between now and 1972," Callan declared.

Will Pick Best
In determining what agency will supply the additional necessary requirements, Callan said, the review board will pick "the agency best able to serve the ratepayers with adequate power at the least possible cost."

Lee Blocker, Lincoln's new superintendent of utilities, placed the cost of generation at $234 million on a basis of $250 per kilowatt installed.

An estimated 938,000 additional kilowatts will be required by 1972.

Generation costs will thus approach $26 million a year for the next nine years, Blocker said.

Near Load Center

"We should build generation as near as economically feasible to the load center, not at political consideration," he told League members.

Blocker proposed a preliminary three-point program:

Ruhnke said lawmakers want municipalities to have "complete authority to operate in their corporate areas however they wish."

But, he said, municipalities should "fully cooperate with adjoining power agencies outside their limits on a basis of what is best for the state."

Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth cautioned the League to "be careful to avoid a rift on power like you had on legislative reapportionment."

Father Of Dionne Quints Has Clear Conscience

Callander, Ont. (AP) — The father of the Dionne quintuplets said Thursday his conscience is clear about the way he and their mother brought up the five famous sisters.

He said a magazine article in which the four surviving girls charged they had a hard and unhappy childhood "is full of untruths."

But Marie contradicted him. It's "true, true, true," she said over the telephone from her home in Montreal.

Oliva Dionne, interviewed at the homestead where the family lived before the quintuplets were born, seemed sad.

We Tried

"Our conscience is clear," he said. "Mrs. Dionne and I may not have been the best parents in the world and we undoubtedly made many mistakes, but we tried our best under very trying circumstances.

"I cannot understand why the girls, who will be 30 next May, should after all these years suddenly hold their parents up to public ridicule and dishonor.

"I hate to think it was for financial gain, but if it wasn't for that, what was it?"

Out In Open

Annette's husband, Germain Allard, said that although the sisters received a substantial sum for the article from McCall's magazine, the chief reason for publishing it was "to get it out in the open."

Calling it "correct in every detail," Allard said the article was not intended to blame anyone, but an effort "to set the record straight."

The girls, who spent the first seven years of their lives as wards of the British Crown in a nursery, said they were miserable after moving into the $75,000 mansion their earnings of infancy had built.

"It was the saddest home we ever knew," they wrote.

Conquered

"We were transferred into the big house like a conquered army, one group of five, huddling together as if for protection against the other six brothers and sisters."

The article complained about the housework they had to do and about the short allowances given them when they went off to school.

At the time, many stories were published about the senior Dionnes' efforts to bring the quints up normally with as little awareness as possible that they were wealthy celebrities.

When Marie married in 1958 she did not tell her parents, who learned of the event from news reports.

being able to claim their $1 million trust fund—and settled in the Montreal area. This touched off stories of family discord which became louder in 1955 when they failed to go home for Christmas.

When Marie married in 1958 she did not tell her parents, who learned of the event from news reports.

House Sold

The big house was sold in 1957 and the parents returned to their old farmhouse.

In a final word, Papa Dionne said:

"We feel badly about this article, but because Mrs. Dionne and I believe the privacy of the home is a sacred skaya Rossiya reported Thursday.

"Miss X" testified against her erstwhile kidnapers in a trial in the North Ossetian Autonomous Republic, where rugged Caucasus mountainers still cling to the traditions of their ancestors.

The newspaper gave this account of the wooing of Miss X by Zaurbek Kisiyev, 29:

Kisiyev decided to get married in the romantic fashion of his forebears' without consulting his intended, Miss X. He enlisted his brother, Boris, and two friends, Mikhail Sokurov and Danni Byedoyev, to help him abduct her in Boris' truck.

The bride snatchers ambushed their victim one evening at a bus stop and "tossed her into the back of the truck like a sack of grain."

"Quickly grasping what was going on, Miss X turned on her abductors," the account said. "Bang. And Byedoyev did a somersault over the side of the truck. He lay sprawled on the ground anxiously feeling himself and mentally thanking fate that his four children, who knew nothing about their papa's nocturnal misadventures, did not become orphans.

"Again bang. And Sokurov did a somersault. Having tossed the boys out of the truck, Miss X jumped out herself."

The newspaper said Sokurov later moaned that "when the truck, I nearly broke my spine in the fall."

The report said the four men were sentenced to various terms of deprivation of freedom in the affair.

Midwest Governors To Discuss Meeting Agenda

Governor Morrison flew to Chicago Thursday to meet with other Midwest governors or their representatives to discuss the agenda and program for the Midwest Governors Conference in Omaha Nov. 20-23.

Morrison said also under discussion has been the possibility of setting up on a permanent basis a Midwest Institute of Government to study the problems of edu-tion and economy common to the region.

The overall problems of the 12 Midwest states vary, Morrison said, but that there are many areas in which they can cooperate for the mutual benefit of all.

The Midwest region includes

North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri, Indiana, Ohio, and Michigan.

Among subjects expected to be discussed at the conference, the governor said, are:

—Expansion of employment and this would involve freight rates, taxation, market factors, and other factors."

—Financing of education, pooling of educational resources, and making use of each state's strength on a cooperative basis.

—New farm crops and new uses for crops now grown, expansion of farm exports and use of collective influence in this regard.

—Highways, highway construction, and uniform safety regulations.

Pamphlet On Road Dept. Policy Proposed

State Sen. Cecil Craft of North Platte Thursday suggested the State Department of Roads publish a pamphlet stating its policy in regard to right-of-way acquisition for the Interstate Highway.

Craft met briefly with Gov. Frank Morrison and urged him to so direct the Highway Department. Craft also asked the governor to see what can be done to accelerate payment for such land.

The North Platte senator said Morrison promised to look into the situation.

Craft said such a pamphlet wouldn't cost much to print, but would be very helpful to landowners whose land is scheduled for condemnation.

Craft said the publication could explain how appraisals are determined, the procedure to be followed and information about the importance of the Interstate. Craft said he knows some people who think the Interstate is a toll road.

Craft said there is no reason why the policy of the Highway Department in this regard should be a secret. He said many other states issue the type of pamphlet he suggested.

The senator also said he no reason why it should take from four to six months after the transfer of title for right-of-way for the state to make payment.

Retarded Need 'Piece Of Life'

Warrenton, Va. (UPI)—The serious man from Minnesota told of 100,000 people in his state—most of them anonymous and idle. He told of new efforts to give them identity and a piece of life.

Dr. Maynard Reynolds of the University of Minnesota is well aware that his state's problems extend to the other 49 states represented at Thursday's opening of a White House conference on mental retardation.

President Kennedy told the first session, in a message, that there are over five million retarded Americans.

Closed Door

"Society for too long has closed the door against the mentally retarded," the message said. "Too often too many have been hidden in attics, locked up in institutions, shunned and neglected in their communities."

Standing beneath the tall pines of this Virginia retreat and meeting place, soft-spoken Dr. Reynolds recalled his early experiences working with the retarded 12 years ago.

That was when he first "sensed the great frustration of parents with retarded children" when there was no adequate community service to help them, he said.

Today, 6,000 of Minnesota's most severe cases—including those with mental disturbances overlaying mental deficiency—are in institutions, he said.

Protect Public

But institutions are too often designed to protect the public from the retarded, rather than to help and train the retarded, Reynolds said, adding:

"There are up to 8,000 retarded children in special classes in Minnesota—all-day schools geared to equipping the deficient with as many basic academic tools as they can handle."

—There are two small, private sheltered workshops. Here, adult retarded unfold newspapers for florist wrappings, do some simple painting of children's toys, some simple woodwork—on subcontract to local businesses. They earn a small hourly wage.

No One Knows

But where the rest of the state's retarded are, Reynolds said, no one knows for sure.

"Some of them are working, good citizens who need help only under stressful conditions," he said. "When business gets bad, they are the first to lose their jobs."

"But others are just at home watching television, stringing beads, languishing in idleness," he said.

Strangely, the most difficult time of life for a retarded person is in school. "Schools make demands that strike

Yet a retarded person poorly equipped with work skills may not be so badly off when he gets out of school and can hold down simple jobs like washing windows or floors.

A retarded person is much like anyone else who has a handicap, Reynolds explained. When you get to know him, you find that underneath he is a human being much like you, with the same aspirations and hopes," he said. But, with the retarded, even hope can be a problem.

They are subjected to the same advertising, develop the same needs, yet have less chance of attainment, Reynolds said, adding: "They have to learn to live life with fewer options than most of us have."

Omahan Selected Realtor Of Year

Bill Hargleroad Jr., Omaha, was named Realtor of the Year Thursday night at the Nebraska Real Estate Association convention banquet at Cornhusker Hotel.

Hargleroad, president of Omaha's Center Bank, was cited for "outstanding and continuous work in real estate" and for "enthusiastic interest in Nebraska's development."

Principal speaker was Daniel Sheehan of St. Louis, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

But institutions are too often designed to protect the public from the retarded, rather than to help and train the retarded, Reynolds said, adding:

Police Seek Slayer Of Pentagon Worker

Arlington, Va. (UPI)—Police sought Thursday the slayer of a Pentagon stenographer who was found knifed to death in the half-filled bathtub of her apartment in swank River House.

The victim was identified as Dee Ann Shangle, 29, divorced mother of two.

Dr. Stephen Sheehy, Arlington County medical examiner, said an autopsy disclosed that Mrs. Shangle, an attractive blonde, probably had been slain shortly before 8 p.m. Tuesday. Her body, clad only in a dress and brassiere, was found shortly before noon Wednesday almost emersed in the blood-tinged bath water.

Direct cause of death, the examiner said, was one of two stab wounds in the chest, but there were indications that she had been beaten and choked.

Police theorized the slayer dragged Mrs. Shangle from the living room to the bathroom and lifted her into the tub. Absence of water in her lungs, they said, indicated she already was dead when she was placed there.

Mrs. Shangle, planning to move to another apartment she was to share with another woman, had posted offers to sell her furniture. Police thought the slayer may have gained entrance to her apartment posing as a prospective buyer.

Mrs. Shangle, the former Dee Ann Meacham, was born in Yost, Utah, where her mother, Mrs. Cecilia Meacham still resides.

She was married to James M. Shangle of Alexandria, an analyst with the Navy's management office. They were divorced in 1962. Shangle told reporters he last had seen his wife about a month ago when she visited their two children, Nancy, 10, and James Jr., 8, who have been living in Tennessee with his family since the divorce.

Air Board Okays Snow Removal Equipment Rental

The Lincoln Airport Authority Thursday accepted a $6,000 rental contract with the Yankee-Walter Corp. of Los Angeles, Calif., for a 250-horsepower snow removal vehicle.

The rental price for Nov. 1 to May 1 can be applied on the $33,250 purchase price if the Authority later exercises an option to purchase.

The board accepted the single-engine model in preference to a two-engine model with a $8,000 rental tag and $42,000 purchase price.

Yankee-Walter was the only bidder on this large snow removal equipment. The board earlier rejected other bids on smaller equipment.

The equipment will be used on the new municipal runway and 10-acre apron and the Municipal Airport.

Quint's Lincoln Grandma Calls Babies 'Wonderful'

From Press Reports

Aberdeen, S.D. — The great-grandmother of the Fischer quintuplets paid her first call Thursday as the babies continued active and hungry.

Mrs. Mary Schroeder, 80, of Lincoln, Neb., arrived Thursday night. She told a newsman she "wouldn't believe it" when a neighbor telephoned to her home Saturday to tell of the birth of the babies.

The quint — four girls and a boy — were born Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fischer.

Dr. James Berbos said the babies still have not been weighed but said their feedings have been increased.

Boy Most Active

"The boy is still the most active and the most hungry," the doctor said.

"They look wonderful to me," the Lincoln woman said after viewing three of the famous five in their isolettes in the nursery at St. Luke's Hospital.

Mrs. Schroeder and her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Brady, 50, the quintuplets' maternal grandmother from nearby Hecla, S.D., told reporters in a hospital corridor interview that they could not decide whom the quintuplets resembled.

"I don't know," Mrs. Schroeder said. "It's hard to tell," her daughter added.

Berbos, who delivered the quintuplets early Saturday, still postponed weighing them because he does not want to risk fatiguing the tiny, premature infants. He said he would not put the babies on the scales Thursday and did not know when he would.

Enjoys Visit

The great grandmother said she found Mrs. Fischer in "good condition" and thoroughly enjoyed a visit with her. She said she was "happy" for her granddaughter. Asked how many great grandmothers she had, Mrs. Schroeder said:

"I've forgotten how many. I lost count on those quint."

Meanwhile, Aberdeen leaders said plans are moving ahead for the Fischer's new home — to be built free by fellow townsmen.

E. C. Pieplow, president of the chamber of commerce, said a Grand Rapids, Mich., firm has offered to furnish and decorate the house free. Two Aberdeen architects, Clarence Herges and John Kirchgasser, said they'll design the home, also without cost.

"The big problem will be to make it both a house and a place that can handle tourists and the press," Herges said.

Herges said he hasn't consulted at length with the Fishers, but added that the building should include a nursery, study, office space, a reception area and quarters for domestic help.

Hotel Thief Gets $40,000 In Jewels

New York (UPI) — Police said Thursday a burglar stole $40,000 worth of jewelry from the hotel suite of Mrs. Geraldine Coors of Denver, Colo., a member of one of the nation's wealthiest brewing families.

The burglar apparently forced a lock on the door of the 11th floor suite with a strip of celluloid, police said.

Mrs. Coors discovered the theft when she and her two teen-aged daughters returned to the hotel. Mrs. Coors has been here since Sunday.

She is the former wife of William K. Coors, president of the Adolph Coors Co. of Golden, Colo.

... UNTIL HE CAME TO U.S.

Washington (UPI)—"I began to feel that in the U.S.S.R. a fanatic belief in Communism, Tarasov also had some advice for them."

Vladislav S. Tarasov, 25, said this was why he leaped from a Soviet tanker in the Bay of Calcutta last November and swam through the darkness to freedom. He reached an American ship nearby, which granted him asylum.

Tarasov told his story in person Thursday to the House Committee on Un-American Activities. The hearing was in sharp contrast to last week when American students who visited Cuba illegally sparked two hectic days of near riots.

Two Hopes

Tarasov told the lawmakers he had two hopes: To finish his education and to "become a good citizen of the United States."

He said he had found that his dream was not just a dream—"America is a free country... it is really true."

As for those people in other

VLADISLAV TARASOV

The farther away you are from its center (Russia), the better it looks, he said. But up close it's ugly. A lot of other Russians would like to escape too, Tarasov said, but they can't. Capture means 10 years in prison or being shot.

Tarasov, who has been in this country for three months now and is studying English at Georgetown University here, told the congressmen in detail why he fled Communism.

All my life I had been dependent on the whims of other people," he said. "When I worked for three years on the ships of the fishing fleet and was forced to perform the orders of ignorant superiors, I kept up my courage with the hope that some day in the future everything would change.

"But as I got to know reality in the Soviet Union more and more, this hope for freedom blew away like smoke.... Something inside me snapped when I realized that further study and advancement up the ladder had no meaning for me."

Tarasov said that in 1961 he began listening to Voice of America broadcasts and reading American authors, including Theodore Dreiser, Jack London and Mark Twain. "I began to understand that

Russ Urge China To Settle India Border Dispute

Moscow (AP) — The Soviet Union, which contains large chunks of former Chinese territory, warned Communist China Thursday that good relations between states depends on respect for existing borders.

The veiled allusion to what could become another flaming issue between the two countries came at the end of a long article in Pravda taking Peking to task for not finding a peaceful solution to its frontier dispute with India.

The organ of the Communist Party claimed this clash benefited only "imperialists and reactionaries" and charged China was keeping it alive as a device to "poison the atmosphere" of relations between Moscow and Afro-Asian countries.

The newspaper warned mainland China not to expect any military help from the Soviet Union in its quarrel with India—a warning made more pointed by an Indian announcement that Soviet MIG 21 jet fighters will go into production there in 1965.

'Might Have Cause'

Pravda said that if the Chinese had expected military help from the Soviet Union during last fall's fighting then they had cause to be angry with Moscow's attitude. Otherwise, the newspaper said, they had none.

That Moscow may be worried about Chinese talk about lost territories, was hinted in these words:

"As for the Soviet Union, it treats with respect those countries on its borders. It understands that good neighborly relations are possible only with respect for the frontiers established between states. "In the question of frontier disputes, we hold to the Leninist view and are convinced that there are no such disputable questions which cannot be settled by peaceful means, by negotiations, without bloodletting."

Stung by Chinese criticism of his role in the Cuba crisis, Premier Khrushchev last March asked the Chinese why they themselves didn't do something about the British crown colony of Hong Kong and the Portuguese enclave of Macao.

Peking replied that these questions would be solved when "the time is ripe." It then asked:

"Do you intend to raise all the question of the unequal treaties and have a general settlement? Has it ever entered your heads what the consequences would be?"

The Peking People's Daily reminded the Russians that their 19th Century ancestors had been more active than any other power at snatching Chinese territory under these treaties. It pointed specifically to the maritime provinces of Siberia—where Vladivostok is located—and to parts of Soviet Central Asia and the region around Lake Balkash.

Russ Sensitive

The Soviet Union is especially sensitive to any discussion of border revisions anywhere because, not only does it contain these former parts of China, but also large parts of what used to be Finland, Poland, Germany, Czechoslovakia and Romania.

Moreover, it is committed to defense of the Oder-Neisse Line between Poland and Germany which put much pre-war German territory under Polish administration.

The question of the border between Chinese-ruled Sinkiang and Soviet Central Asia hit the headlines again this month after the Chinese charged the Soviet had lured thousands of Chinese across it. Peking said the Kremlin intended to train them as fifth columnists.

The Soviet Union has as yet made no formal reply.

BEAR WRECKS AUTO; UNHURT

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. (AP)—A bear and a small sports car collided on Interstate Highway 75 about 20 miles south of here.

The car was wrecked and caught fire. Its occupants, Jerry Hall, 20, of Dayton, Ohio, and David Neff, 22, of Detroit, suffered minor injuries.

The bear, apparently uninjured, lumbered off back into the North Michigan woods.

Some important information for every man who will need a new truck within the next 12 months

New Chevrolets are a lot more truck than your money bought the last time. Here are some of the things that have been done to give you more value for practically the same investment.

Double-wall construction. This feature of Chevrolet cabs and the Fleet-side pickup body has two advantages. Insulation and sound-deadening material is sandwiched between the two layers of steel in the cab to give you more comfort; in the body, the inner wall acts as a buffer against load damage, preserving the outer appearance of the truck.

In addition to double-wall construction, cab door openings are larger now. Getting in and out is much easier.

Also, front ends and treads of some medium- and heavy-duty models are much narrower. You have better forward visibility. It's easier to maneuver in tight spots.

Suspension to fit the truck. You get a much better ride in every size Chevrolet truck today than you used to. Instead of making one type of suspension system do for the whole truck line, we now have different types and combinations of springing designed for your particular needs.

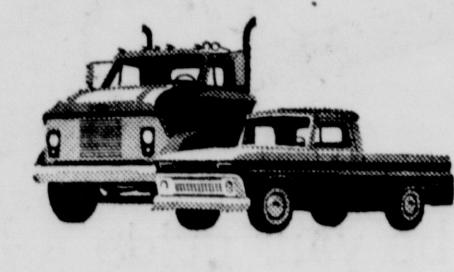

Conventional half- and three-quarter-ton models have independent

The right engine. Chevrolet has been building truck engines since 1918 but never has it been in better position to give you the type and size you need for maximum efficiency. Today there truck for the kind of work you do. In delivery trucks, for instance, in addition to regular panels and pickups, we have eleven different sizes of ready-made walk-in vans, some with full-width rear doors.

There are also the Corvair 95 vans with the air-cooled engine in the rear. And the Corvair 95 Rampside with its exclusive side-loading feature. These trucks have more power this year.

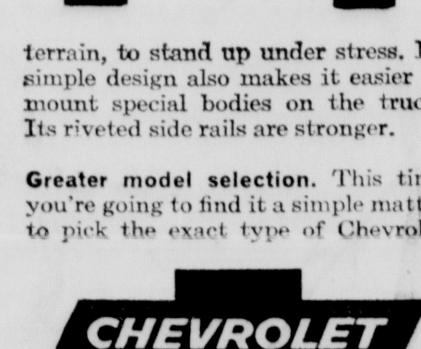

Have you seen the '64 El Camino deluxe pickup yet? We think it's the best looking commercial vehicle ever built.

In the medium- and heavy-duty area there are stakes, tilt cabs, low-cab-forward models and cab-and-chassis units to suit almost any requirement—including school bus bodies of up to 66-passenger capacity.

Dump truck operators now can order a Chevrolet tandem with either gasoline or diesel power.

Quality and value. Chevrolets today are a lot more truck than your money bought the last time, and yet the price tag is just about the same as 5 or 6 years ago. Call your Chevrolet dealer for information or for a demonstration.

Three Motor Vehicle Death Trials Slated

Three persons charged with motor vehicle homicide have entered innocent pleas in Lancaster District Court and are scheduled for trial sometime during the fall court term, which begins Sept. 30.

Mrs. Nadine Hardesty, 27, of 2709 F, charged in connection with the death of Rolland Robert Stewart, June 8, pleaded innocent Thursday before Judge Herbert Ronin. Mr. Stewart, 24, of 1225 No. 29th, died a few hours after the motorcycle he was riding collided head-on with a car driven by Mrs. Hardesty at 27th and Theresa.

Also pleading innocent Thursday was Dan Lovercheck, 19, of 2244 E, charged in connection with the Aug. 15 death of Henry Mittleberg.

Lovercheck was driving a pickup truck which collided with a car driven by Mr. Mittleberg, 57, of 948 Whittier, at Burlington Ave. and West A.

Merrill M. Brennan, 38, of 1011 Peach, pleaded innocent to the charge filed in connection with the June 1 death of Lana M. Eden, 16, of 4600 Eden Circle.

Miss Eden was a passenger in a small foreign car which was in collision with a car driven by Brennan on West Van Dorn.

O'Kelly Seeks New Trial On Murder Count

The attorney for convicted murderer Dennis O'Kelly asked the Nebraska Supreme Court Thursday to order a new trial on the grounds he was arrested illegally.

The court took the appeal of the Lancaster District Court case under consideration.

Philip Sorensen of Lincoln, O'Kelly's attorney, contended "the police arrested O'Kelly and took him down to the station without probable cause." The attorney added that O'Kelly wasn't taken before a magistrate and advised of his rights until he had been interrogated.

The 21-year-old O'Kelly was convicted of beating and drowning his teen-age girl friend Barbara Eastman in Oak Lake here in August 1962.

He first admitted the crime but later repudiated the confession and pleaded innocent to the second degree murder charge in District Court. He was sentenced to life imprisonment in the State Penitentiary.

Sorensen also contended a new trial should be granted because the confession O'Kelly made was illegally admitted at the trial.

Assistant Atty. Gen. C. C. Sheldon maintained there was reasonable grounds for O'Kelly's arrest and that his admission of the crime was valid evidence at the trial.

TAKE A LOAD OFF YOUR HEART

The man who puts his feet on his desk practices good health. He's giving tired legs and feet a rest, and easing strain off his heart. Next time the boss isn't looking, or even if he is, try a brief rest with feet elevated for renewed energy. And always trust Gilmour-Danielson for all family drug needs and prompt, accurate prescription service. (But don't blame us if the boss doesn't understand this relaxation theory.)

the hospital division of the State Health Department, warned that "private enterprise" can't be expected from government agencies, church and non-profit groups and the though patients receive more intensive care, payments are limited to the amount granted for "moderate care" patients.

William Grossman, member of the Lancaster County Board, reviewed present policy in setting payment rates for welfare recipients in nursing and care homes. The county, he said, spends about $150,000 monthly for such costs.

Dr. George Underwood said that convalescent care facilities are now being built by the county which will "answer many of the problems" of lack of space at reasonable rates for county patients requiring intensive care.

Also discussed were plans by Methodist and Congregational churches to build low-rent housing for the elderly in Lincoln.

Miss Lona Trott said the Methodist church plans a high-rise apartment structure in the area of University Place, but does not expect to include infirmary of nursing services.

Three Congregational churches are planning some type of construction to provide apartments for the elderly, plus a board-and-room facility, and a small care home facility.

She also added that even no nursing home vacancies are available for their transfer.

Services will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday at St. Mary's Cathedral for the Rev. Benedict Eugene Kalin, 41, superintendent of Pius X High School, who died in his sleep Wednesday night.

Rites Saturday For Father Kalin

The death was discovered after Fr. Kalin failed to appear for classes. Apparent cause of death was a heart attack.

Fr. Kalin was the son of the late Benedict C. Kalin, a Lincoln druggist, and Emma F. Kalin of Lincoln, who survives him. He was a graduate of St. Mary's Cathedral High School and St. Thomas Seminary in Denver.

On June 8, 1946, he was ordained in St. Mary's Cathedral, and afterward served as assistant pastor at Sacred Heart Parish in Lawrence and at St. Mary's Cathedral in Lincoln.

Survivors in addition to his mother include five brothers, the Rev. Leonard Kalin of Blessed Sacrament Church, Lincoln, the Rev. William Kalin of Sts. Peter and Paul Church in Falls City, Charles J. of California, Dr. John of Omaha, and James at home; four sisters, Mrs. Kathryn Salotto of Cincinnati, Mrs. Margaret Morin of Lincoln, Mrs. Marilyn Mattern of O'Neill, and Miss Mary Jo, at home.

How to Recognize your WORLD BOOK ENCYCLOPEDIA Representative

...The Most Important Person You May Ever Meet May Visit You in the Next 10 Days!

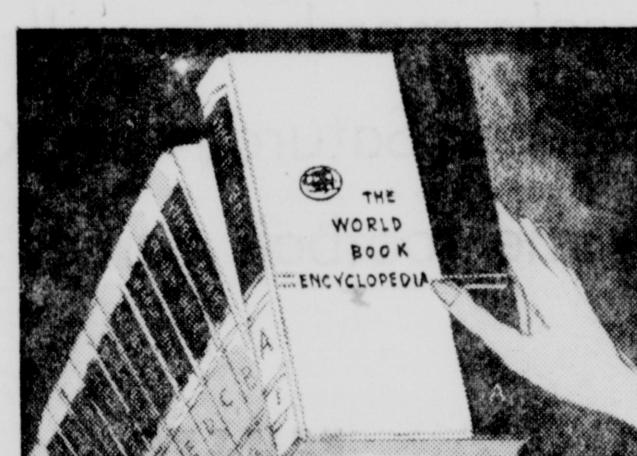

A Neighbor You Can Trust

Your World Book Representative may be a man or woman—an educator, librarian, church or social worker—a resident of our community, not part of an "imported team." No matter what his or her background, everyone of our legion of dedicated educational counselors has this in common: a devotion to the cause of better education and higher cultural standards for your entire family and this community.

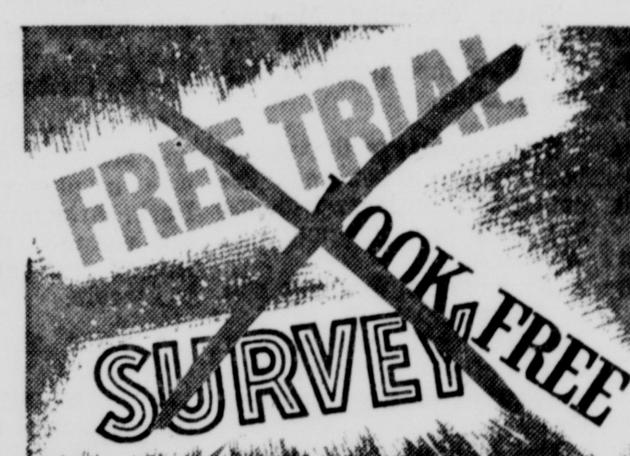

Serving Educational Needs

As parents, you are keenly aware that the need for knowledge was never so great. Modern educational methods require reference reading in practically every study area. World Book has been specifically planned to fit your child's course of study. That is why World Book actually "grows" with your child. It is interesting and inviting to read, and is prepared by more than 2,500 leading authorities in every field.

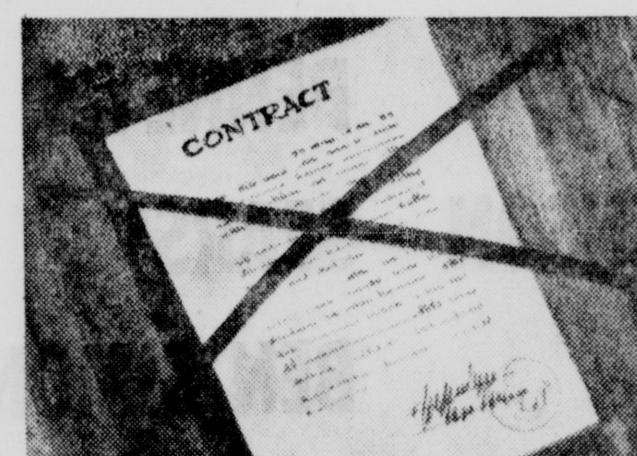

Highest Quality

From its covers through its contents, World Book represents the highest quality and the greatest value in the entire encyclopedia field. In addition to providing as many as five more volumes than other sets offered at comparable prices, World Book contains more than 11,700 pages, over 22,400 illustrations (almost 6,000 in color), and more than 1,725 maps. Every State and Province issuing a recommended list of reference books has approved World Book for purchase and use in its schools.

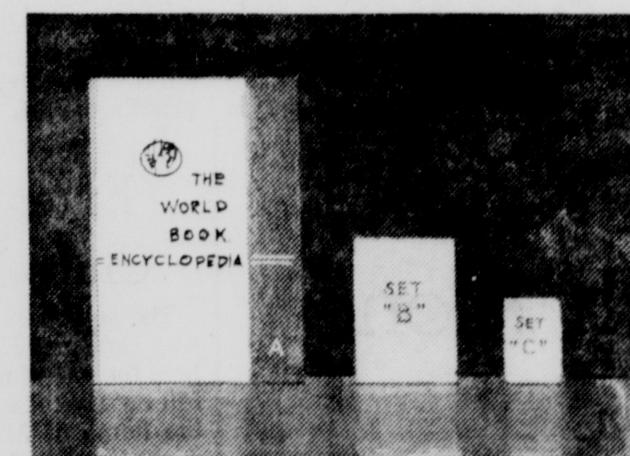

No Tricks

The World Book Representative who will visit you uses no subterfuge. We employ no devices to force either our product or our people into your home. Because we respect your privacy, we firmly adhere to this policy. Our employment standards are extremely strict and training is intensive. All the facts and figures will be given you, and any questions will be completely answered. You will enjoy the informative visit of your World Book Encyclopedia Representative who enjoys serving you.

No Misleading Deals

The established prices for World Book Encyclopedia and companion educational products are clearly stated in our advertising for everyone to see. All of our representatives in our world-wide sales organization are thoroughly trained to adhere to this firm price policy and are forbidden to sell under any other implication. In that way we can continue to deliver honest value at the most reasonable rates.

First in Sales

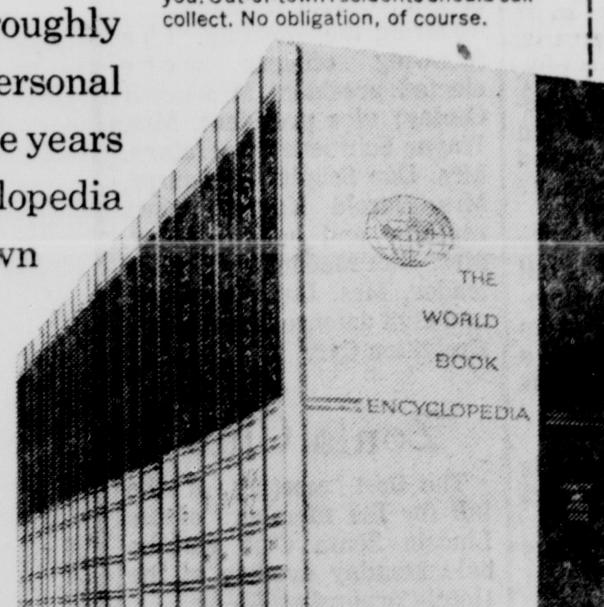

Leadership is an effective guide in your selection of what is best for your children. Year after year, World Book continues to outsell every other encyclopedia in the world today. This is your assurance that, as they face the future—school and career years—you can fulfill your youngsters' confidence in you by providing the far-reaching benefits of the finest help you can give them...World Book Encyclopedia.

More and More Educators and School Administrators Choose World Book for Personal as Well as School Use

World Book is designed to meet today's needs more thoroughly than at any time in the history of publishing. Let the personal choice of educational leaders help guide you. In the past five years alone, more than 331,000 sets of The World Book Encyclopedia have been selected by educational leaders for their own homes, classrooms, and libraries...even though they have access to every reference work published. You profit from World Book's popularity...greater value at lower price!

Around Town

There will be considerable activity at the Air Port at various intervals today. It's homecoming for numerous Lincoln residents who took the University of Nebraska Alumni Association tour in Europe.

Expected home today are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Guenzel and their family; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Reed, Mr. and Mrs. William Kimball, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Kimball and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Nicola of Denver; Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Goldberg and Mrs. Goldberg's mother, Mrs. L. J. Adler, and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Portsche.

As a matter of fact this is to be an exciting weekend—more or less, dependent upon the final score, of course.

We have more pre-game luncheons to mention—one of them is the party for which Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thone will be host and hostess at their home. We understand that there are to be numerous out-of-town football fans among the guests.

Also on Saturday's pre-game host and hostess list are Mr. and Mrs. James Stuart, Jr., who have invited guests for an 11:30 o'clock luncheon at their home.

There is news of a new Phi Kappa Psi legacy this morning, also—We hear that Bryan Scott Campbell had his first glimpse of the world on Thursday morning at Lincoln General Hospital. The young Mr. Campbell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Campbell, and his mother is the former Virginia Schilling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Schilling—and Pi Beta Phi at Nebraska. Mrs. Doris Campbell and John M. Campbell, both of Lincoln, are the paternal grandparents. The baby has another quite ardent admirer in his brother.

FUN NEWS IN SUBURBIA

MEADOW LANE

The old saying, "Don't put off until tomorrow what you can do today," is certainly being heeded in many of the Suburban areas, for up and down the blocks one can see the male members of the family literally climbing over roof and chimney with paint cans and brushes in hand—ready for the unexpected turn of the weather.

In-between the hustle and bustle of home improvements many Meadow Lane residents have found time to entertain guests, play bridge and go to football games.

And among these very busy residents are Mr. and Mrs.

Autumn Bride-Elect

Convention Scheduled

All members of garden clubs in the state are invited to attend the 29th annual convention of the Federated Garden Clubs of Nebraska, which will be held Sept. 30 and Oct. 1, at the Pathfinder Hotel in Fremont.

Mrs. S. P. Taylor of Norfolk, state president, will preside at the convention which will open at 9:45 Sept. 30, and which will have as its theme, "Scan the Horizons for New Objectives."

Program speakers will include Mrs. Frank B. Morrison of Lincoln; Mrs. W. H. Barton of Lansing, Mich., national chairman of Flower Show Schools; John D. Schatz of Springfield, Mo., horticulturist; Mrs. Ferres Gordon of Marshalltown, Iowa, accredited flower show judge; and Mrs. Edgar Irving of Omaha, whose topic will be, "Growing For Show."

Club members of District 2 will serve as convention hostesses.

Preceding the convention, a State Flower Show will be held at the Fremont auditorium on Sunday, Sept. 29, 2 o'clock to 8:30 o'clock. During the show, which will have as its theme, "The Image of Nebraska in 1963," a Silver Tea will be sponsored by District 5, of which Mrs. Herman Haas of Wisner is director.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Neeman, by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reuel Summers.

The wedding will take place in November.

Dear Abby

Leave Bad Enough Alone

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I told a friend that I had heard (mind you, I did not say I KNEW), only that I had HEARD) that a woman we both know was divorcing her husband because of a woman who works for him. Well, it turned out there wasn't any truth in it. Now the husband of this woman called up MY husband and asked him to put a muzzle on me! My husband says I should call up this woman and apologize to her. I say the husband ought to call ME up and apologize. What do you say?

TALKS TOO MUCH

DEAR TALKS: I say, leave bad enough alone. AND in the future, remember, one pays through the nose for what comes out of the mouth.

DEAR ABBY: Saturday is the only day I can shop without the kids because my husband baby-sits. My problem is a neighbor woman who comes over to drink with him the whole time I'm gone. When I get home they are half-loaded, the house is a mess, and the kids are running wild. How can I tell my neighbor that proper women do not visit married men while their wives are away without hurting her?

ROANOKE

DEAR ROANOKE: Hurting her? Forget it—she's feeling pain. Besides, she knows how proper women should behave, but she isn't having any of it. Your husband is the one who needs to be told.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: A few weeks ago you had a letter in your column from a teenage girl who was hired by a Mrs. Smith to look after her children. The girl complained that MR. Smith kept trying to get her in a corner and kiss her. She wanted to quit but she needed the money she was earning for school clothes and she didn't know what to do. Your advice was good, incidentally. You told the girl to quit, and to tell MRS. Smith why she

Extension Clubs Meet

The members of the Gateway Gourmet Extension Club held their first meeting of the fall on Thursday, Sept. 12, at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Sorge, with Mrs. Thomas Jones as assisting hostess.

A program on hair-styling and care was presented.

The September meeting of the Busy Belle Extension Club was held at the home of Mrs. Carroll Ketelhut.

During the meeting, the following officers were elected: president, Mrs. Lewis Cooley; vice president, Mrs. Wayne Schroeder; secretary, Mrs. Don Schultz; treasurer, Mrs. Harold Kayser; news reporter and health leader, Mrs. Don McGinnis; reading leader, Mrs. Dale Bateman; and civil defense leader, Mrs. Creighton Cyr.

Zonta Club

The first meeting of the fall for the members of the Lincoln Zonta Club will be held Monday evening at the Hotel Cornhusker.

Ron Hull, program director for KUON-TV, will speak on, "The Past, Present and Future of Educational TV in Nebraska."

It's Quiz Day

QUIZ
You are South, both sides vulnerable. The bidding has been:

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	Pass	1♦
Pass			?

What would you now bid with each of the following five hands?

1. ♠QJ9852 ♦K83 ♦4 ♣KQ6
2. ♠J94 ♦9872 ♦6 ♣AKJ73
3. ♠Q9863 ♦5 ♦AK84 ♣QJ6
4. ♠KJ5 ♦94 ♦KQ72 ♦K962
5. ♠5 ♦K8764 ♦A983 ♣J3

1. Two spades. The partner of a player who passed originally is not bound by the principles that govern most bidding sequences. Thus, if South responds one spade after having passed previously, North is not required to bid again, since he knows that South did not have the values for an opening bid. He might be in a position to know that game is impossible and he can therefore pass when his judgment indicates that this is the best thing to do.

In the present case, it is best to jump to two spades to appraise North of the strong possibility of game despite the previous pass. A response of one spade would be in order if partner opened fourth hand with a diamond—which would diminish the face value of the hand—but with the actual opening bid of a heart the hand rises in value and North should be quickly advised of the game-going potentialities.

2. Three hearts. The jump raise, after passing originally, does not promise quite the values that would be expected from a player who had not passed previously. The bid is not forcing. It would be wrong to suppress the heart support by responding two clubs, which North would be at liberty to pass with a minimum opening bid.

3. One spade. Even though the hand is only a trifle short of an opening bid, it is still best to respond with only one spade. The singleton heart is a liability, not an asset, after partner bids hearts, and a jump response would therefore not be in order under the circumstances.

4. Two notrump. Ordinarily, this response shows 13 to 15 points, but when the bid is made by a passed player, the high-card point range is only 11 to 13 points. The bid is not forcing and may be passed.

5. Four hearts. Even though there are only 9 high-card points in this hand, the chances of making game are good and no risk of dying at a part score contract should be run. The excellent

by Stan Squelch

A bright day. A sliver of breeze off the East River is setting the leaves dancing a gaily along the breezy East Fifties. New York City.

This is the season of new fall books. Bright jackets in the windows. Bright reviews in the book sections of the newspapers. Bright hopes among the authors. It is a season of literary cocktail parties. Books are launched by breaking a martini across the bows.

The book jackets are well worth reading. Sometimes better than the books.

"In the first novel, promising young author George Squelch examines the hidden heart of slum love. Arlene Simpleside is a midtown maniac, chained to her job by

We now print the book. A photo of George is on the back along with his literary and medical symptoms. He is smoking a pipe — all authors smoke pipes. And the picture is taken so he looks like he is falling out of it.

The publishers throw a cocktail party at a fashionable hotel.

Five to seven. It is attended by George and wife. By two representatives of the publisher and the press agent.

One literary critic from a literary magazine. Ten salesmen from book stores. One reporter from a daily paper — he gets the invitations from the book critic and it saves him a good deal of money he would otherwise spend in taverns.

The literary cocktail party is geared for three drinks per person. Books are not like oil wells. There's a lot of drilling. If you come up with enough to fill a cigarette lighter, you are lucky.

The critics have already come on with the criticism. "A tender, moving tale . . ." "A new author who shows great promise."

"A heroine who will be remembered . . ."

The East River breeze blows in the curtained windows. The red-jacketed bartender passes the hors d'oeuvre. The author gets slightly loaded. The book is under way.

The book now goes into the book stores. For a couple of weeks it shines brightly in the window.

It is displayed in large piles on the front table. (The author's wife goes into book stores incognito and checks the consumer interest.)

The author walks down in the night and sees the comforting jacket in the darkened window.

Next week's book — next week's cocktail party — comes out. George's book goes to the second table back.

There comes a time when

George's wife calls and asks for the book and is told, "Sorry, that is out of print."

George passes by a store one day and sees the book. There is a sign in the window, "Any book in this window, 99 cents."

It makes a man humble.

NU's Student Parking Squeeze Eased

Under the viaduct north of the stadium, 425 stalls.

North of Nebraska Hall between 16th and 17th, 75.

South of Vine between 16th and 17th, 35.

A fourth plot north of the twin tower dormitory complex is being cleared and will afford about 100 more spaces. This area became available by clearing three parcels of ground:

tion equipment and release of storage space for it.

Additional stalls now available, Donaldson said, give the university some 500 more parking spaces than it had last year to serve permit holders. Meanwhile, however, the university's enrollment has increased substantially, an estimated 10%.

University parking lots are open on a zone basis to student and staff permit holders. The permit fee is $5.

Cager Leads Portland Open

... FIRES 8 UNDER PAR

Portland, Ore. (AP) — The newcomers took over in the first round of the Portland Open Golf Tournament Thursday with Gary Flolan, a basketball player from the University of Idaho, leading the pack.

Flolan cut eight strokes off par with a 32-32-64 on the par 36-36-72 Columbia-Edge-water Country Club course. That put him three strokes ahead of his nearest competitor, another professional rookie, Frank Beard of Louisville, Ky.

The big money winners of the year were farther back in this $30,000 tournament, which carries a first prize of $4,300.

Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Bill Casper of Corona, Calif., and Bruce Crampton of Australia, all had identical rounds of 37-35-72.

A number of the leading pros were not entered, including Arnold Palmer, Julius Boros, Tony Lema, Gary Player and Dow Finsterwald.

Flolan, who was graduated from college this year, had two eagles and five birdies in his round.

Ladies Hold Final Golf Stagette At Hillcrest

The final golf stagette of the season for the ladies was held Thursday at Hillcrest Country Club with the following winners:

Farrar said South Dakota is prepared to settle the boundary any time Nebraska is willing "and we are prepared to bring suit in the U.S. Supreme Court to settle the boundary."

Morrison Suggests Agreement

The state could get into "a lot of expensive trouble" if the dispute with South Dakota regarding fishing in the Gavins Point tailwaters is not settled, Governor Morrison said Thursday.

He reiterated his previous stand that "the sensible thing to do is work out a sensible arrangement" between Nebraska and South Dakota which would put a stop to the controversy.

He noted that some, including the Legislature, did not go along with his approach last spring which would have precluded the possibility of legal action to settle the issue.

If the matter ever winds up in court, the litigation would prove expensive, the Governor said. In this he was echoing the opinion expressed earlier in the week by Clarence A. H. Meyer, Nebraska Attorney General.

Three days ago, South Dakota Atty. Gen. Frank L. Farrar said his state is prepared to take the fishing wrangle to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Top, Bottom NCC Battles Spice State College Slate

... NWU VISITS COLORADO COLLEGE

By DON SUMMERSIDE
Star Sports Writer

Potential battles for the top and the bottom in the Nebraska College Conference highlight the football program this weekend as state college clubs swing into conference play for the first time.

NCC title contenders Wayne and Kearney collide on the Wildcats' home field in the top contest of the week.

Wayne, a 28-6 victim of the Antelopes a year ago, hasn't been on top in the series since 1960. The Wildcats' hopes for improving upon their second-place finish in 1962 are bolstered by the home site Saturday and a 34-19 waltz over St. Mary of the Plains in their season's opener.

Kearney, however, was also impressive in its grid debut, topping Washburn (Kan.), a member of the tough Central Intercollegiate Conference, 19-14.

At the other end of the NCC ladder, Chadron visits Doane in a contest which could decide the cellar spot in the loop. Doane was blanked in its opener by Tri-State member Concordia, 18-0, while Chadron absorbed a 48-0 defeat at the hands of Northern State, a South Dakota Intercollegiate Conference powerhouse.

Non-NCC battles find Hastings looking for a second straight win over a Colorado foe when it visits Golden for a game with Colorado Mines and Peru trying to get back in the win column at St. Mary of the Plains. The Bobcats were a 34-6 victor over the Kansas club last year. A leaky pass defense, which allowed Northwest Missouri to complete 13 of 20 last week, must be shored up if Peru plans a repeat conquest.

Leo Pappas, a freshman footballer at the University of Nebraska a year ago, was the quarterback giving Peru fits.

In the Tri-State Conference arena, play begins in earnest with three loop games on tap.

Males Usually Involved In Hunting Accidents

A recent national survey of hunting casualties revealed that 99% of the shooters involved were males, 80% were licensed, the majority were 20 years of age or older, and more than 70% had three or more years of hunting experience, according to the Game Commission.

Shotguns accounted for the most casualties with 60%, rifles for 36%, and handguns for less than 4%.

Los Angeles (P)—Bo Belinsky, in his third appearance since returning from Hawaii, pitched the Los Angeles Angels to a 7-2 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Thursday with a five-hitter before 476 fans, an all-time low for the Angels.

Albie Pearson doubled and scored the go-ahead run for the Angels in the seventh to make it 3-2 and the Angels added four more runs in the eighth. Lee Thomas drove in three runs with a single and a double.

Belinsky's last major league victory was a four-hitter over the New York Yankees here May 1 before 36,937, second largest Angel home crowd of the year.

LA Gives Piersall Walking Papers

Los Angeles (P)—The Los Angeles Angels announced Thursday that Jim Piersall has been released unconditionally.

General Manager Fred Haney said if the outfielder doesn't make a better deal for himself, he can contact the Angels next spring. Piersall has been hampered recently by an injured left thigh muscle.

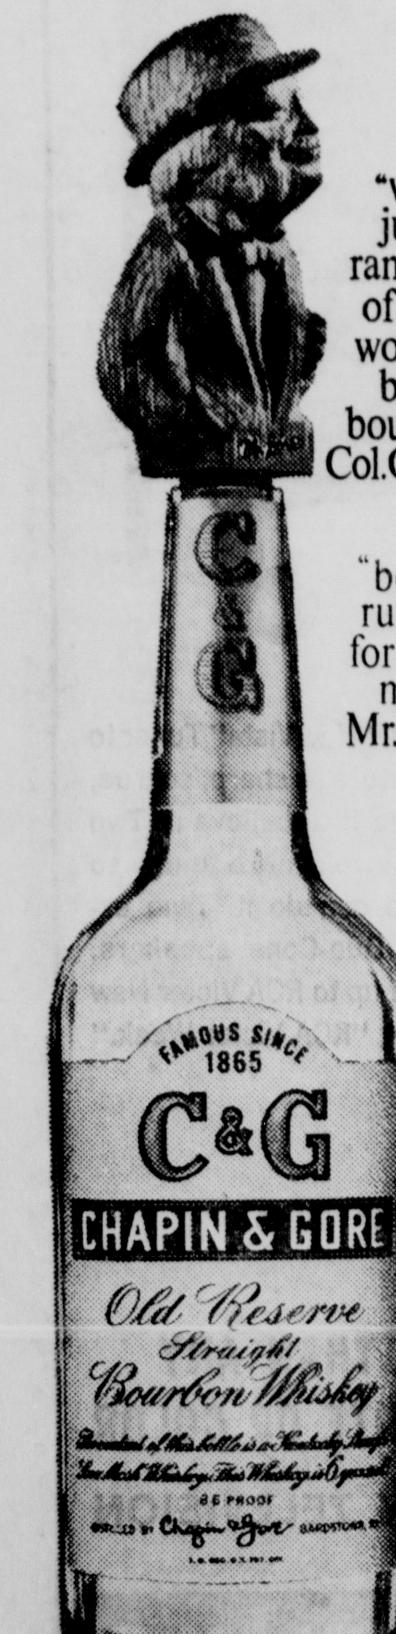

Piersall's release is his second this season. He previously was dropped by the New York Mets.

Osuna Advances

Los Angeles (P)—Rafael Osuna of Mexico, U.S. champion, advanced into the third round Thursday of the Pacific Southwest Tennis Tournament.

Osuna, seeded No. 1, defeated Vladimir Petrovic of Yugoslavia, 6-1, 6-3.

Antonio Palafax of Mexico defeated Norman Perry of Los Angeles, 6-2, 6-1.

Liston Refuses To Talk; Wife Issues Statements

Denver (P)—Heavyweight champion Sonny Liston stayed close to his home on Monaco Boulevard Thursday and refused to talk to reporters.

He let his attractive wife, Geraldine, do the talking for him. Mrs. Liston made these points:

1. Sonny has a daughter, Eleanor, 12, and Mrs. Liston referred to herself as the child's stepmother.

2. Eleanor has not been sick and is attending classes as usual in sixth grade of a public school.

3. Liston has been deeply disturbed by the Birmingham bombing in which four Negro children were killed. "That was why he said what he did last night, that he was ashamed to be in America," Mrs. Liston said.

4. The champion is weary from his many exhibitions in Great Britain, and decided to fly back home.

5. Mrs. Liston said she knows of no other daughter of Liston's.

Atokad Gets Good Start On 1st Day

South Sioux City — An opening-day crowd of 2,640, 200 more than last year's opening day crowd, turned out Thursday and bet $110,494, $13,000 more than was bet last year here.

The increase in betting and attendance can probably be attributed to Atokad's new facilities and good weather.

Three rode winners twice during the day. Fred Ecoffey in the seventh and Kunitake in the eighth. Ronald Alexander piloted winners in the third and fifth races.

Citizens Committee Says Many Russians Leaving Cuba, But Others Coming

Washington (UPI) — The Citizens Committee for a Free Cuba said Thursday it has information the Soviet Union has been withdrawing considerable numbers of Russians from Cuba recently.

It added, however, that Chinese, African, Spanish, Latin American, Czech and other Soviet Bloc Communists are coming into Cuba at about the same rate the Russians are leaving.

Official U.S. sources professed to have no specific information on Russian departures, except to say that several Russian ships with considerable passenger-carrying capacity lately have been in Cuban ports. They said they had no information regarding reported arrival of other Communist forces into Cuba.

To 10 Camps

The Citizens Committee, an organization of Americans opposing the Fidel Castro Communist regime, said "as for the new arrivals, they are going almost entirely into 10 training camps, some of them devoted exclusively to foreigners, for tough courses in guerrilla warfare and other military tactics."

The committee was formed last April with the announced purpose "to do everything possible to deal with the Castro problem short of endangering the peace of the United States."

It says it is supported by 40 U.S. citizens, with much of its financial backing supplied by Jose M. Bosch, president of the Bacardi Rum Co. and a former finance minister of Cuba. The executive secretary is Daniel James, a writer.

Great Concern

President Kennedy told a news conference Aug. 12 he plans to see the Soviet Union's Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko during the Russian's stay in the United States to attend the United Nations. He has said on numerous occasions that presence of Soviet troops in Cuba is a matter of great concern to the United States.

Kennedy said on Aug. 20 some Russian troops had left Cuba since April, when U.S. officials estimated about 12,000 were there, but he declined to say how many. At the time of the missile crisis nearly a year ago, U.S. officials indicated about 22,000 Russian troops were in Cuba.

The Citizens Committee said its intelligence sources in Havana reported a large area of the Cuban capital surrounding the port section had been blocked off to normal traffic for a week or more from midnight to daybreak.

Moving to Port

The committee quoted one refugee just arrived from Cuba as saying he saw trucks loaded with Cuban-made furniture, such as beds, chests, desks and tables, and U.S.-made electric refrigerators moving to the port of Havana late at night.

Gen. Alberto Bayo, a Spaniard who trained Castro's Cuban guerrilla fighters in Mexico, and Enrique Lister, an other Spanish general who fought on the Communist side in the Spanish Civil War, direct two of the training camps in Cuba, the committee said.

It said one refugee reported four giant Soviet jet Ilyushin planes left Havana's international airport, Rancho Boyeros, in a single day, each carrying 120 Russians homeward.

Britain, France Move Ahead On 'Chunnel' Link

London (UPI) — Britain and France Thursday moved a step closer to the day when they may be linked by a "chunnel" whisking travelers under the English Channel in 45 minutes.

An Anglo-French commission of experts unanimously recommended construction of a tunnel, rather than a bridge, across the channel to form the first permanent link between the British Isles and the continent.

The "chunnel," as the project has been popularly termed, still must be approved by the British and French governments. The first plan for a cross-channel tunnel was submitted to Napoleon III in 1856 by a French engineer. One was started in 1881 and excavations still exist on both sides.

Released

The recommendations of the 10-man commission, which spent two years studying the possibility of the cross-channel link, was released in London and Paris.

The report said cost of construction of a railroad tunnel and special rolling stock to carry automobiles "can be estimated at 1962 prices" at about $400,400,000.

It said the tunnel could be built in about six years, including the time necessary for preliminary surveys.

Same Time

A bridge, the commission said, could be built in about the same time but would cost approximately twice as much and would constitute "a new and serious hazard and source of delay to mercantile and naval shipping in the Straits of Dover, one of the busiest shipping channels in the world."

The tunnel also was preferable to improving existing means of cross-channel transportation by sea and air ferries, the report said.

The commission said that both bridge and tunnel "would be vulnerable to attack in case of war and would be exposed in differing degrees to the risk of sabotage."

"But defense considerations are not judged by the responsible authorities in Britain and France to be decisive," it added.

More than 4 million travelers cross the channel each year by sea and air routes and more than 350,000 cars and over 500,000 tons of freight also go by sea and air.

British and French backers of the project have a detailed plan calling for three tunnels extending 40 miles—23 miles under the channel—from the village of Westenhanger on the English coast to the French channel resort of Sangatte.

Two of the tunnels would contain a single rail track.

The third tunnel would parallel the other two as a service and maintenance tube.

WHITES STREAMING BACK TO SCHOOL IN BIRMINGHAM

Birmingham, Ala. (AP)—White students streamed back to school with five Negroes Thursday to stifle an anti-integration boycott.

The city was quiet on the eighth day of school desegregation.

Negro leaders met with President Kennedy in Washington to discuss Birmingham conditions in the wake of a Sunday church bombing that killed four Negro girls and brought the shooting deaths of two more Negroes.

Two hours before the meeting, Kennedy agreed to see five white Birmingham businessmen, clergymen and officials about the racial situation at the request of Mayor Albert Boutwell. That meeting is set for Monday.

The Facts

Boutwell said he called the President to ask that Kennedy "hear from the hearts of the people of Birmingham all of them—the facts I think he should hear and the nation should hear."

The mayor said the conference was requested because of "the many different and frequently distorted versions of the Birmingham story that have reached the nation."

It was quiet Thursday at Tuscaloosa as Negro student Tuscan Malone registered for the fall term at the University of Alabama—where Gov. George Wallace briefly barred her last June in a promised doorway stand.

In Anniston, three white men were arrested on charges of assault with intent to murder in the Sunday beating of two Negro ministers at a white library.

An identical charge was made against a Negro youth in connection with an attack Sunday night on a white man.

Attendance at the three desegregated Birmingham schools was very near normal Thursday. Over-all, white high schools had 94.2% attendance.

At West End High, where the boycott was very effective last week, 1,155 of the 1,416 students enrolled went to classes. That was 81.6%.

Ramsay High, which has had no trouble over integration, was up 92.2% with 845 of the 916 students in school. At Graymont Elementary, attendance

climbed to 232, or

88.9% of enrollment.

Boycotting white students roved from school to school last week, yelling and chanting for sympathy walkouts. They had little success. After the Sunday bombing, leaders halted the demonstrations.

The school board threw out a petition asking that the schools be closed rather than operated on a desegregated basis. Attorney Reid Barnes said the petition, presented by a group of West End women, was not legally prepared.

Britain To Publish Scandal Report

London (UPI) — The British government announced Thursday night it will publish in full the potentially explosive Denning report on the nation's sex and security scandal next week as a white paper.

The decision to tell all came after two cabinet meetings and a face-to-face confrontation between Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Labor Party leader Harold Wilson.

Wilson demanded parliament be recalled to debate the report which was compiled by master of the roles Lord Denning, one of Britain's top judges. He interviewed playgirls, call girls, gangsters and government ministers, including Macmillan.

Speculation over a November election was sparked by highly publicized official reports of a promising upward trend in Britain's economy. The labor ministry announced Thursday the unemployment total had dropped by 16,624.

parliamentary debate starting about Oct. 14, political sources reported. Parliament is scheduled to convene Oct. 24 and observers said it was unlikely to be called back before then.

The government's decision to publish the report sparked immediate Conservative Party confidence which had been waning when Lord Denning opened his inquiry.

Government sources said it reinforced reports Macmillan had no plans to call a general election this year. He has until October, 1964 to do so but has been under increasing pressure from Labor and the Liberal Party to call one now.

British Study Opposition To NATO Polaris Force

London (AP) — The British government was reported Thursday night to be reappearing its opposition to President Kennedy's proposal for a mixed-manned Polaris force.

Senior authorities disclosed Foreign Secretary Lord Home expects the cabinet shortly to authorize British participation in new talks on the subject.

Two planning committees of interested Atlantic Alliance nations are due to get down to work on the American project in Paris and Washington next month.

As now envisioned, the Polaris force would comprise about 25 surface ships, each manned by crews from various nations in the NATO alliance, and each carrying eight Polaris rockets with nuclear warheads. Command arrangements and firing orders have yet to be worked out, but crews would have their own uniform, a standardized signal system and a common flag.

West German Role

The NATO deterrent force would give West Germany a role in Western nuclear strategy and management for the first time. Because of this the Russians have fiercely assailed the scheme.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government recognizes, without sharing, Soviet fears of a Germany with nuclear weapon ambitions. But leaders here are worried about the effect the Polaris force might have on chances of improving East-West relations.

According, Lord Home will fly to New York Sept. 25 empowered to press for new action to carry forward the process of seeking bit-by-bit settlements with the Russians.

Two Proposals

In talks with U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, Lord Home is expected to urge agreement on two definite measures:

1. To stop the spread of nuclear weapons to nations which do not now have them.

The Polaris force, in the West's view, would fall outside the scope of any such agreement. It would not involve giving the Germans, or other allies, control of the Polaris rockets.

2. To station peace inspectors at key points on both sides of the Iron Curtain as a guard against surprise attack.

Russia already has accepted such an idea, which would allow observers to check and report on troop concentrations.

Kennedy's scheme for a fleet of 25 Polaris carriers was conceived as a means of giving the European allies, and particularly the West Germans, a share in the management and control of the deterrent. The precise mission of the jointly-owned armada has still to be determined.

Cheering Demos Told: 'Fight Goldwater Republicanism'

Salt Lake City, D-Idaho — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, rallied cheering western Democrats Thursday for a fight in the 1964 election campaign against the "Goldwater brand of Republicanism."

Church said in a keynote speech at the Western Democratic Conference that "westerners bear a special responsibility" in Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.).

"I'm here to say that western Democrats had better organize for the '64 campaign, beginning now, in such a way as to surmount the tide of nonsense which threatens to engulf us," Church added.

Into Oblivion'

The Idaho Democrat, who devoted most of his speech to Goldwater, continued:

"One man, in this day and age, clothed with the power of the presidency, can deliver us into fiery oblivion—foolishly, unnecessarily, and finally, by just one error of judgment. An American president who mistrusts the winds of freedom, and tampers cavalierly with the delicate balance of terror upon which the peace presently depends, might well be the last American president."

Church said Goldwater opposes the nuclear test ban treaty because "he is committed to a policy of initiating the use of force in the struggle with communism."

Conclusions Self-Evident'

Church said a perusal of Goldwater's books would lead to the following "self-evident conclusions:

"... Anyone who is fully informed about the consequences of thermonuclear war—as Sen. Goldwater is—and is nevertheless capable of saying such a 'war may be the price of freedom,' simply doesn't live in the real world."

"... Any man who clearly mistrusts all means except violence to advance the cause of freedom is ill-qualified to be the leader of a free society..."

"The third conclusion is the peril to which we will all be exposed if the helm of the nation is entrusted to a man of such temperament in these precarious times."

Democratic National Chairman John Bailey said in another speech that some "right-wing radicals" are shrewd professional agitators, making a good living preying on the fears of the uninformed, preying on prejudice and bigotry, and plowing their returns back to spread more hate and suspicion and raise in more money. These people... will be back with more money in 1964—and they will be attacking Democrats and supporting Republicans."

Noble Claims Due Process Was Denied

Hearing on a petition for writ of habeas corpus by Penitentiary inmate Harlan Lynn Noble will continue Friday before U.S. District Judge Robert Van Pelt.

Noble, 52, claims he is unlawfully imprisoned and was denied due process of law in connection with his sentencing in the Aug. 1, 1959, kidnapping of a 6-year-old Lincoln girl.

Noble, who is serving a life term for kidnapping and 20 years for sodomy, maintains he was insane prior to, and during and after the court proceedings. He was a Kansas mental institution escapee.

He also alleges threats and promises were made to him so he would waive extradition from Wisconsin, where he was arrested after the Lincoln kidnapping, confess to the crime and plead guilty to the charges.

Terrorists Destroy U.S. Plant

... DU PONT FACTORY BURNED IN VENEZUELA

Caracas, Venezuela, (UPI)—Pro-Castro terrorists Thursday burned and destroyed the U.S.-owned Du Pont factory warehouse in Caracas. Early loss estimates ranged in excess of $250,000.

It was the 40th consecutive day of anti-government terrorism in Venezuela's capital city. It was the second attempt by the underground anti-government Armed Forces for National Liberation (FALN) to destroy the Du Pont installation. The first attempt, last December, failed.

The pattern of sabotage used in the attack of the Du Pont paint and chemicals building was a familiar one. Six men heavily armed with tommyguns entered the building, in an industrial suburb, held up the personnel, brought in cans of gasoline from two waiting cars, sprayed it throughout the building and touched off the fire with a molotov cocktail.

Flames Limited

By the time police and firemen arrived, the attackers were gone and the building was enveloped in flames. Firemen brought in from all parts of the city limited their fire-fighting activities to preventing the flames from spreading to six smoky adjoining factories.

They also ordered the evacuation of the nearby Roman Catholic Santa Maria School for girls. Only a few boarders were in the building.

The warehouses of the U.S.-owned Sears Roebuck firm in Caracas were destroyed by with little practical success.

similar means by terrorists earlier this year. In the December attack on the Du Pont building destroyed Thursday, some damage was caused by fire but losses were smaller.

Near Destroyed Plant

The Du Pont building is near the U.S.-owned Daugherty Cord Company plant, a rope factory which was destroyed by the terrorists in similar fashion only a few months ago.

The current reign of terror in Caracas is in line with the FALN's threat "to do everything within our means to prevent the forthcoming rigged presidential elections."

Police have responded to the challenge with stepped-up raids on suspected FALN hangouts, and roundups of Communists and leftists, but with little practical success.

Negroes Badly Beaten; Crashed KKK Rally

St. Augustine, Fla. (UPI)—Four Negro integration leaders were severely beaten when they deliberately crashed a Ku Klux Klan rally.

Three were hospitalized with severe scalp lacerations and bruises and the fourth was treated and released. A Flagler Hospital spokesman said Thursday all were in satisfactory condition.

Four klansmen from nearby Jacksonville were charged with assault and battery in the beatings and were released on $100 bond each.

St. Johns County Sheriff L. O. Davis said the four Negroes drove down a side road leading directly to the site of the Klan rally.

Wanted To See'

"I guess they wanted to see what the rally was all about and didn't realize the Klan had spotters out," Davis said, set Sept. 27.

"They got to the end of the road and there was no place to go."

Davis said the klansmen stopped the Negroes car, dragged the four men out, beat them and wrecked the vehicle.

Those beaten were Dr. Robert Hayling, 33, advisor to the local National Association for the Advancement of Colored People youth council; Clyde Jenkins, 35; James Hauser, 43, and James Sanders Jackson, 18, all of St. Augustine. Only Jackson was not admitted to the hospital.

Charged were Clarence O. Wilson, 29; Harmon Davis, 49; Lawrence A. Bessent, 30, and De Witt W. Springfield, 46. All denied the charge and claimed they were only klansmen left at the scene when authorities arrived. Trial was
